Amending the Brooks Law.

MODIFICATIONS OF THE HIGH LICENSE BILL OFFERED BY MR. BROOKS.

THE PROVISION FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE CONSTABLES.

Mr. Brooks has two new bills designed to modify the Brooks High License law.

These bills meet the approval of the friends of the High License law. One is a supplement to the Brooks bill, and provides for the transfer of licenses in case of death or sale.

The other bill directs that all applicants for liquor licenses shall pay an additional $24 to compensate the constables of the various wards and townships in the State for the duties imposed upon them by the Brooks bill.

An Act to provide for the payment of Constables throughout the different counties of the State of Pennsylvania for duties performed as commanded and required by the License Act of May 13, 1887.

Section 1. Be it enacted. That the sum of twenty-four dollars shall be paid in each and every year to the County Treasurers in the different counties of the Commonwealth, in addition to the amount now required to be paid by the Act of May 13, 1887, by the successful applicant for license to brew, bottle, wholesale and retail vinous, spirituous, malt, or brewed liquors, or an admixture thereof. The said additional sum of twenty-four dollars shall be paid by the aforesaid County Treasurer in monthly pro rata payments to the duly elected, qualified and commissioned Constables in the different wards, boroughs, townships and counties of this Commonwealth for services performed as commanded by the Act approved the day and year aforesaid, and upon proper proof certified to by the Clerk of the Quarter Sessions of the Peace of the respective counties of the Commonwealth that said duties had been faithfully performed.

A supplement to an Act entitled an Act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous, malt or brewed liquors, or any admixture thereof; approved the thirteenth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That no license to vend vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors, or any admixture thereof, granted under any law of this Commonwealth, shall be transferable or confer any right to sell the same in any other house than is mentioned therein; nor shall any bar or place where such liquor is sold by retail be underlet by the person licensed to sell thereat; nor shall any person or persons be licensed to sell such liquors at retail unless he or they are the sole proprietor or proprietors of all the business of any kind carried on in the room of the place where such liquors are licensed to be sold. But if the party licensed shall die, remove, or cease to keep such house, his or their license may be transfered by the authority granting the same to the successor of such party for the remainder of the year, on compliance with the regulations of the laws in all respects, upon payment only of the legal fees.

Section 2. No female or minor shall be allowed to sell or serve any spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquor in or about any place where such liquors are sold at retail.

Section 3. It shall not be lawful for any person licensed to sell spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors at retail to furnish, by sale, gift or otherwise, any of said liquors to be carried or taken away or out of the house, room or place mentioned in said license.

Section 4. Persons licensed to sell spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors shall, as far as in them lies, prevent all disorderly conduct in and about their premises, and in case of any disturbance of the peace shall immediately give notice to the nearest sheriff, constable, officer or member of police of such disturbance, and call upon said officer to interpose; whereupon it shall be the duty of such officer to remove the disorderly person, and, if need be, to close up the place and keep it closed until order and quiet are entirely restored.

Section 5. All persons thus licensed shall close or shut up their bar or place of sale at or before the hour of 10 every night and not open the same until 6 o'clock next morning, and on Sunday shall not open them at all, but keep them shut until Monday at 6 o'clock in the morning. This is not designed to prevent the reception and lodgings of persons traveling, without violation of the law; provided that in cities and boroughs the Council may by ordinance allow the said rooms, bars or places, to remain open one week-day evening till a later hour, not later than 12 o'clock.

Section 6. It shall be the duty of every sheriff, constable, policeman and officer of police to compel the observance and to prevent the violations of the provisions of the act, and in discharge of such duty, if need be, he shall have power to close up and keep closed any place or places where such violations become known to him, whether by his own personal observation or by information of any respectable citizen of the vicinity. Also it shall be the duty of officers aforesaid to arrest such persons so alleged to be acting in violation of the law, and to bring them before any magistrate in the vicinity to be dealt with according to the provisions of law; and it shall be the duty of such magistrate to entertain complaints for the violation of the law when made under oath by any citizen of the vicinity.

The number of executions during the past year in the United States was eighty-seven. New York headed the list with nine and Pennsylvania furnished five. All of the condemned were men, except one; fifty-seven were whites, twenty-nine negroes and one a Chinaman. Lynching not included.

An exchange says that a new plan for church sociables has been hit upon and will be generally practiced during the winter. Each male person is presented with a card on which a dozen names are written, and is requested to talk five minutes with every one whose name is on the card. A bell is then struck and new partners sought. By this plan wall flowers are eliminated, everybody receives attention, cliques are broken up all go home happy.

A Battery in Hot Action.

DESCRIPTION OF A BATTLEFIELD SCENE.—NOT AS HISTORIANS TELL OF IT, BUT AS FIGHTING MEN KNOWN IT TO BE.

One who has fought on many a battle-field writes the following thrilling description of the work of a battery of six guns:

Did you every see a battery take position?

It hasn't the thrill of a cavalry charge, nor the grimness of a line of bayonets moving slowly and determinedly on, but there is a peculiar excitement about it that makes old veterans rise in their saddles and cheer.

We have been fighting at the edge of the woods. Every cartridge box has been emptied once or more, and one-fourth of the brigade has melted away in dead and wounded and missing. Not a cheer is heard in the whole brigade. We know that we are being driven foot by foot, and that when we break once more the line will go to pieces and the enemy will pour through the gap.

Here comes help!

Down the crowded highway gallops a battery, withdrawn from some other position to save ours. The field fence is scattered while you could count thirty, and the guns rushed for the hills behind us. Six horses to a piece—three riders to each gun. Over dry ditches where a farmer would not drive a wagon, through clumps of bushes, over logs a foot thick, every horse on the gallop, every rider lashing his team and yelling—the sight behind us making us forget the foe in front. The guns jump two feet high as the heavy wheels strike rock or log but not a horse slackens his pace, not a cannoneer loses his seat. Six guns, six caissons, sixty horses, eighty men, race for the brow of the hill as if he who should reach it first would be knighted.

A moment ago the battery was a confused mob. We look again and the six guns are in position, the detached horses hurrying away, the ammunition chests open, and along our line runs the command:

"Give them one more volley and fall back to support the guns." We have scarcely obeyed when boom! boom! opens the battery, and jets of fire jump down and scorch the green trees under which we fought and despaired.

The shattered old brigade has a chance to breathe for the first time in three hours as we form a line and lie down. What grim, cool fellows those cannoneers are. Every man is a perfect machine. Bullets splash dust in their faces, but they do not wince. bullets sing over and around; they do not dodge. There goes one to the earth, shot through the head as he sponged his gun. That machinery loses just one beat, misses just one cog in the wheels and then works away again as before.

Every gun is using short fuse shell. The ground shakes and trembles, the roar shuts out all sounds from a line three miles long, and the shells go shrieking into the swamp to cut trees short off, to mow great gaps in the bushes, hunt out and shatter and mangle men until their corpses cannot be recognized as human. You would think a tornado was howling through the forest, followed by billows of fire. and yet men live through it—aye! press forward to capture the battery. We can hear their shouts as they form the rush.

Now the shells are changed for grape and cannister, and guns are fired so fast that all reports blend into one mighty roar. The shriek of a shell is the wickedest sound in the war, but nothing makes flesh crawl like the demoniacal singing, purring, whistling grape shot, and the serpent-like hiss of canister.

Men's legs and heads are torn from bodies and bodies cut in two. A round shot or shell takes two men out of the rank as it crashes through. Grape and canister mow a swath and pile the dead on top of each other.

Through the smoke we see a swarm of men. It is not a battle line, but a mob of men desperate enough to bathe their bayonets in the flame of the guns. The guns leap from the ground, almost, as they are depressed on the foe, and shrieks and screams and shouts blend into one awful and steady cry. Twenty men out of the battery are down, and the firing is interrupted. The foe accept it as a sign of wavering and come rushing on. They are not ten feet away when the guns give them the last shot. That discharge picks living men off their feet and throws them into the swamp, a blackened, bloody mass.

Up, now, as the enemy are among the guns. There is a silence of ten seconds, and then the flash and roar of more than 3 000 muskets and a rush forward with bayonets. For what? Neither on the right nor left nor in front of us is a living foe! There are corpses around us which have been struck by three, four, and even six bullets, and nowhere on this acre of ground is a wounded man. The wheels of the guns cannot move until the blockade of dead is removed. Men cannot pass from caission to gun without climbing over windrows of dead. Every gun and wheel is smeared with blood; every foot of grass has its horrible stain.

Historians write of the glory of war. Burial parties saw murder where historians saw glory.

Ringing Noises.

In the ears, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

"John, dear," said a loving wife, "if I were to die what would you do?" "But you're in no danger of dying!" "I know I'm not; I'm only supposing the case. If I should die what would you do?" "My dear, you might better ask me what wouldn't I do?"

Smith—What a dazzling creature your wife is. Brown—Ought to see her without her diamonds. They spoil her conversation.

High License Bill.

Representative Lemon of Allegheny presented last week to the House an amendment to the Brooks High License Bill.

It provides for the granting of License by an excise commission, who shall sit at Harrisburg at least once a month. They shall consider no objection to the granting of a license unless made on the ground that the applicant is not of good moral character and is not a fit person to keep a saloon, or that he is not a citizen of the United States. The commission is authorized to appoint deputies, who shall have power to enter any saloon during business hours for the purpose of examining whether the provisions of the act are being complied with. The sections relating to the license fees are as follows:

Section 12. That every vender of liquors shall be classified and required to pay annually for their license as follows: Those whose sales are under $25,000 per annum the sum of $500; all those whose sales are above $25,000, $1,000; and resident agents for foreign breweries and distilleries, except where such agent is a wholesale dealer licensed under this act, before being permitted to make sales of their commodities in this commonwealth, shall pay like sums according to their sales; the money derived from licensing wholesale dealers to be divided in the proportion, and applied to the purpose set forth in the succeeding sections.

Section 13. That all persons licensed to sell intoxicating liquors in any hotel shall be classified and required to pay annually for such privelege as follows: Persons licensed to sell by retail, resident in cities of the first, second and third class, shall pay the sum of $1,000 Those resident in boroughs shall pay the sum of $500. Those resident in townships shall yay the sum of $300. which sum shall be divided in portions as follows: In cities of the first class four fifths shall be paid for the use of the city and county, and one-fifth for the use of the commonwealth. In cities of the second and third class three-fifths shall be paid for the use of the city, one fifth for the use of the proper county, one-fifth for the use of the commonwealth. In boroughs three fifths for use of borough one fifth for use of county and one fifth for use of commonwealth. In townships one half for use of township, one-forth for use of county, and one-forth for use of commonwealth. The sum so paid for use of townships to be applied to keeping the roads of such townships in good repair.

The other sections provide for good order in hotels and properly furnished establishments. No license shall be granted to places of amusement. No licensee who shall sell liquors by less measure than one quart shall trust or give credit therefor. No license shall be transferable nor shall it confer the right to sell the same in any other house than is mentioned in the boad or license; nor shall any bar where liquors are sold in less measure than one quart be underlet by the person licensed to sell there. But if the party licensed die or cease to keep the house, the license may be transferred.

Druggists are allowed to fill prescriptions without license.

Section 34 reads that upon no hotel or other railroad car shall intoxicating liquors be sold unless such a car be licensed by the excise commissioner after the payment of $500 in the state treasury. Violators of the section are subject to a fine of $500 and imprisonment for one year, and render the company operating said cars liable to a penalty of 2,000.

Queer Finds in Pianos.

The variety of articles that piano tuners find in pianos is remarkable. One said he found four diamonds in a piano and received a very substantial reward for his discovery from the lady who had employed him. "You can understand the shock given to a ring," he said "when a lady is playing and brings her fingers down in a crescendo. If a stone happens to be loose, away it goes, and with that rare affinity which valuable things have in getting into strange places, it promptly gets between the keys and works down into the framework of the instrument And little things like gems are not the only ones lost in this way. I have found coins of all sorts in a loosely set piano, hairpins, ordinary pins, visiting cards, and the like. Where there are children around the accumulation becomes greater, for the little rascals have a habit of stuffing pianos full of every small thing they can get their mischievous little fingers on. Of course, the tone of the piano is very much injured by the presence of any thing beneath or behind the keys, but very few persons who use the instrument can distinguish when it is a quarter tone out of the way, especially when they are using the piano themselves."

Newspaper Decisions.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from a post office, whether directed in his name or anothers, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment.

2. If a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the post office or not.

3. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or period icals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

The Voice of the People on Wine.

It is a well known fact that wines above all other liquors are grossly adulterated, but when a pure article is placed on the market and people find it out to be pure, they all with one voice recommend it. The Port Grape Wine from the vineyards of Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., has received the unqualified endorsement of the medical faculty and of thousands of invalids who have been won back to health by their use. For sale by druggists.

He (who has just left the piano)—How do you like my voice, Miss Race? Miss Race (Cincinnati)—Your voice? Oh it's certainly a howling success, Mr. Keys.

MONEY IN POULTRY.

BY W. B. GERMAN.

There seems to be a great difference in opinion, concerning the question, is there any money in poultry, and I will endeavor to give some information from my own experience: and from what I can get from others. And let me say right here that this essay is for your good, so sit still and listen with the valve of your understanding well open: five or ten acres of ground and four or five hundred pullets will make you more money, with half the labor, than ten times the amount of land, and ten times the amount of labor and capital employed in any other branch of farming. Yet you despise it, and say: "Pshaw! it is only good for the women to attend to. Well then if you think it beneath you, why then just give the women folks as you call them a chance. Give them a good start, and let them have all the profit, and see if they don't beat you making money. Profit in Poultry, says Jas. Rankin, in the Homestead: I have 16 cows in my barn; neighbors call them good ones. The milk is sold in the neighboring village at remunerative prices. It requires the labor of two men and one team, to milk, care for these cows and deliver the milk.

I have three hundred and fifty Pullets in my yard. And with but a little of the labor and capital employed, these Pullets last winter made more than double the clear money my cows did. Take another instance: Two young men are running a Poultry and Dairy farm conjointly. The one is an invalid and keeps one thousand hens. The care of which occupies about one half of his time. The other keeps thirty cows, from which he makes butter of so good a quality, that it readily commands from 8 to 10 cents more than standard price. This man raises the usual farm crops, reads the papers carefully, knows something about labor and its applications, and runs his gang of 4 or 5 men with an eye to business. Yet the invalid brother, with less than one tenth of the labor and capital employed clears double the money from his 1,000 hens, than his brother does from the whole farm. Geo. A. Preston, of Binghampton N. Y. says: The 1st and 2nd year he kept poultry that he sold fowls and eggs to the amount of $2,000. He says after he counted over the figures twice to be sure that he was correct, he put on his hat and walked out to the hen house, stuck his hands down into his pockets and whistled "Hail Columbia" because his enterprise was a success. And he says his sales have been gradually increasing and the first eleven months of 1887 his books showed the vast amount of sixty-one hundred dollars. He says he had lots of fun in the business and his friends made lots of fun of it. They called him the hen man, and young feather legs. Some people say Oh! the chicken business is good enough for the boys, but we men upon whom rests the fate of the nation, must sit around the grocery, talk politics, and spit on the stove or worse. He says we are sending our beef and pork to every market in the world, yet begging of Bismarck eggs to settle our coffee, and five out of every dozen of those addled or stale. Mr. Preston further says: the poultry business is made up of small items, yet in the aggregate, exceeds the value of beef and pork combined. He says I have heard of cattle dealers who boast of making 50 per cent. on a herd of Holstein, but it is a poor manager who can not make a flock of 50 hens pay 200 per cent. I have heard men say here in Millville that there is danger of overstocking the market. Well my friend just let me ask you, if there is danger of overstocking the market, why is it necessary for us to import as many eggs as we do to supply the demand? Why is it that we buy three million dollars worth of eggs from Germany annually. And why is it that Canada cackled over sending us three million dozen eggs last year. I can tell you it is because the American hen has never produced enough eggs to supply the demand, and until she does you need not worry about the market. I wish to make one point clear. Too many men pet one kind of stock and abuse another. You should make this a rule, if you have too much stock, or more than you can take care of properly, and as it should be done, sell the surplus, and buy feed for the rest with the proceeds, if you keep poultry. Provide every needed accommodation. To make it a success you must do it. When you feed your poultry do it liberally. Don't call 30 or 40 hens around you at night to give them a grain of corn apiece, and perhaps begrudge them that, but throw them all they will eat up clean. A hen is a machine. If you furnish her the proper food, and keep her in a comfortable place, she must lay eggs, but if any thing is lacking she will not lay, and you can't blame her, as a great many farmers do not know what or how to feed for eggs. I will give what is now considered to be about the best method. This may come under the head of management of poultry, nevertheless I will give it, and hope that many may profit from it. In the first place let me ask, how many know what an egg is composed of. It seems necessary to know this before we can tell just what to feed. The shell of an egg chemically speaking is composed of or consists chiefly of carbonate of lime and a very small part of phosphate of lime. The white is composed of eighty parts of water fifteen and one half parts of albumen and four and one half parts mucus. The yolk consists of water, oil, albumen, and gelatine. Now as we know what an egg is composed of we are better able to tell what is necessary to feed for eggs.

In the first place the hen must necessarily have something to form shell, and oyster shell heads the list. For in it you have almost the genuine egg shell. Burnt boner are good, lime is also good, but always use sand or gravel with lime. To form the interior of an egg feed as follows:

For breakfast, one part meal, one part shorts, and one part wheat bran, mix with milk or water, if in winter, the milk or water should be hot. Occasionally season with red pepper.

For dinner, feed wheat.

For supper, feed whole corn, as it contains more warmth, and does not digest so easily. During the winter season poultry should have occasionally vegetables of any kind, also meat scraps. And as the white of an egg is composed of nearly all water, the hens should have all the clean fresh water they will drink. The Douglas Mixture should be given every two or three days, a gill for every 25 head. This mixture is the best tonic known for poultry. You want also a dust box, also a box for bone and oyster shell. Now keep your hen house clean, warm, and well ventilated, and keep the best breeds of poultry you can get. And you will have an abundance of eggs the whole year round.—Read at the Millville Farmers' Institute, Jan. 9, 1889.

Music of a maiden "Medium."

MISS LULA BILLINGS AND HER ALLEGED REMARKABLE POWERS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Miss Lula Billings, the only daughter of Mr. Eton G. Billings, of this city, is creating great excitement here by her remarkable spiritual manifestations. Miss Billings is a tall slim brunette, about 29 years of age, with a rather pretty face and quiet attractive manners. It seems that she is endowed with a supernatural musical power.

For several years Miss Lula has been able to sing while in a trance state, but her parents have been so averse to having the public know the fact that until recently very few have listened to the fair musician during one of her "spirit" performances.

The young lady takes her seat at the piano, and, after a few nervous movements of her head, passes into an unconscious, or, as she says, "trance state," during which she plays and sings with great ease and skill.

She has no knowledge of music whatever, save what her mother has taught her upon the piano, and even here her skill is by no means above the average of many girls of 18 years of age, yet her playing while in the trance state is beautiful in the extreme. She also plays in a masterly manner while under the power of the "spirits," upon the guitar, flute, cornet, violin and harp, although she has never received instruction on any of them.

She says she is controlled and directed by an Italian musician and scholar who has been dead several centuries, and who, she says, is named Ingrelio. Under his direction she improvises rare harmonies, but her playing while not in the trance state is of a very mediocre order. She has a sweet soprano voice of considerable range.

Mrs. Billings told a correspondent that about nine years ago the family first learned that Lula was controlled by spirits. One night they were calling upon some neighbors who were spiritualists when Lula went into the sitting room and began playing on the piano. The room was entirely dark. They heard her playing familiar songs, but after a time the music was of such an order and so strange that they went in and lighted the gas to see who was playing. She says that her daughter sat there with her hair hanging over her eyes playing like mad. She ran to the piano and shook Lula, who gave a scream and fainting fell to the floor. From that time she has continued to develop her strange power. Mrs. Billings says that when Emma Abbot was stopping here she sat in the window of the hotel and listened in amazement to Lulu's singing. She made inquiries regarding her, and in company with members of her company called to hear her sing and pronounced her voice superb.

Mrs. Billings says her daughter sings in Spanish, French, Italian, German, Chinese and in the ancient Hindoo dialect. Mr. Billings does not believe in spirits despite the wonderful performance of his daughter, but says he can not account for her power.

The Prohibition Amendment.

Advices from Harrisburg leave little room for doubt that both branches of the Legislature will again adopt the Prohibition amendment to the Constitution, and provide for its submission to a vote of the people at a special election to be held in the early part of the summer.

In order to submit the Prohibition amendment to the people this year, it will be necessary for both branches of the Legislature to again pass the proposed amendment without any change whatever, and to declare by law when it shall be admitted to the people. The text of the amendment must be advertised in full in every county of the State for three months prior to the election; and it may be submitted to the people either at a special election in May or June, or say in September or October after harvest time, or at the regular November election, as the Legislature shall decide.

The special friends of the Prohibition amendment are importunate in the demand for a special election to decide the issue, and their wishes are likely to prevail. They argue that even at an unimportant general election there would be more or less political entanglements, and they want an election at which the people will have no other question to consider or act upon than that of Prohibition. A majority of the votes cast at such election will adopt or reject the proposed Prohibition amendment. If adopted, an extra session of the Legislature would be a necessity to enact laws for the enforcement of the new Constitutional provision. If rejected, no new Prohibition amendment, or any other amendment, could be proposed for five years.

The proposed amendment is a radical prohibitory measure. It absolutely prohibits the manufacture or sale of all intoxicating liquors as a beverage, which includes beer and wines of all grades, and directs the Legislature to provide by law for the punishment of those who shall disregard its mandate. If adopted by the people, all manufacture and sale or traffic of any kind in liquors, beer or wines as a beverage, would summarily cease upon the official declaration of the popular approval of the measure, and there would be no restitution to owners of property that may be made by the change. Licenses granted for a period beyond the date of the operation of the prohibitory amendment would terminate at once, as the amendment, as adopted by the last Legislature, would go into immediate effect upon its approval by the people.—Times.

Bliffers—"Yes, don't care if I do. Fact is, I quarreled with my wife this evening, and am drinking to drown my sorrows. You have had a similiar experience, I suppose?" Blinks—"Yes, but tonight we made up again, and I'm out celebrating it.

Husband (who has married for money)—"My dear, I wish you would give me a little money this morning. I really haven't change enough in my pocket to get down-town and back." Wife—"Why, certainly, my love; but do you think 10 cents will be enough?"

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1889.

The joint resolution to submit the Prohibition amendment to the constitution to a vote of the people passed the House finally on Tuesday by a vote of 132 to 55. Eight Republicans voted with the Democrats against the resolution, and seven Democrats voted with the Republicans for it. The resolution will undoubtedly pass the Senate, and it is expected that the amendment will be voted upon at a special election to be held sometime in June.

THE COURT AND THE LICENSES.

Persons engaged in an effort to restrain the liquor traffic are entitled to all respect and consideration, and so far as this paper is concerned, they are at liberty at all times, and in all proper ways, to bring their views before the public. But it seems remarkable that it should take the good people who are battling for the temperance cause, so long to learn the fact that in all proceedings in court the law makes no distinction between parties. In the application for liquor licenses, the laws of the state, and the rules of court of Columbia County make certain provisions and regulations with which all applicants are compelled strictly to comply. The petition must be in certain form, it must conform to the act of assembly in every particular; it must contain the signatures of at least twelve residents of the borough or township; it must be filed at least three weeks before the day fixed for license court, and must be advertised in a particular way three times in two newspapers. A failure to comply with any one of the provisions of the law, is fatal to the application.

On the other hand, there are certain provisions regarding the manner in which the proceedings on behalf of those who wish to oppose the granting of licenses shall be conducted. The Supreme court has said that general remonstrances against the license system ought not to be considered; the specific reasons why the licenses ought not to be granted must be set forth in each particular case. The rules of court provide that "remonstrances against the granting of license must be filed seven days before the day appointed for the hearing. If there are any specific objections to the granting of such license they must be set forth in the remonstrances so required to be filed." It is true that the rules permit additional petitions of residents of the township or borough to be filed on or before the day of hearing, but this is only in regard to those cases in which a remonstrance has been filed a week in advance.

A failure to comply strictly with the provisions of the law laid down for the guidance of the opponents of licenses, is just as fatal to their proceedings as a failure on the part of license applicants is to theirs. The courts can make no distinction. The fact that individuals or organizations are engaged in a great moral work does not give them any greater privileges than others are entitled to, when they appear in court, either in person or by petition. If their remonstrances are not in legal form, and are not filed in court as required by law, they are not entitled to any more consideration than the petitions of applicants containing similar defects. That such is the case, is the requirement of the law, and not of the courts; and as in the past, so in the future, it is likely that the whole license question will be dealt with by the court in compliance with the plain requirements of the law. Those who hope to accomplish any good by diminishing the number of licensed places in this county, should do it in the manner pointed out by law. So long as the law of the state recognizes a license system, so long the courts must grant licenses in accordance with that law, and petitions to the court asking that no licenses be granted in the county will be useless until the legislature shall make a change. The legislature makes the laws; the courts administer them as they find them upon the statute books.

We are not defending the license system. That question does not arise in this present discussion. We simply insist that all business of the courts shall be conducted in the manner defined by law, and that is what the court has done in the disposition of the license cases this week. There may be some who will denounce the Judges for granting any licenses, but all good law abiding people who will take the trouble to inform themselves as to the law of the matter, will uphold the court in having conscientiously and lawfully discharged its duty.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.]

Washington, Jan. 21, 1889.

Representative Springer backed by 145 of his colleagues, has given the Republican Senate an opportunity of showing how sincere the great interests they are constantly expressing for the territories really is. If they accept Mr. Springer's bill as passed by the House, South Dakato with two Representatives and Montana with one will will be admitted as States by Presidential proclamation just as soon as the voters accept the constitutions already formed, and North Dakato, Washington and New Mexico may be formed. If they reject this bill they postpone for months the admission of any of the territories.

Senators Gorman, Vest, Vance and others are vigorously combating the growing sentiment among the Democrats in the House to accept the Senate Tariff bill as better than no legislation on the subject. They argue that the Senate bill is more objectionable than the existing law, as it increases the duties on articles in which the masses are directly interested—notably iron, cotton and wool. They contend that when the bill is referrd to a conference committee, the Democratic conferees should be instructed to take a firm stand in behalf of the necessaries of life, and let the Republicans take all the responsibilities of framing a tariff bill to suit themselves in the next Congress. The other side of the question is represented by Representatives Wilson, of West Virginia, and Catchings, of Mississippi, who are of the opinion that the Republicans would be greatly disappointed if the House should agree to the Senate bill, and for that reason they favor doing so, as the measure contains some good things and is therefore better than no bill. They contend that as long as the Republicans claim to have carried the election on their tariff ideas that they should be allowed to pass their bill. That this is the status of the matter at this time. But those who are in positions to know, say that the Senate bill will never be considered by the House.

The old adage that "a house divided against itself will fall", is likely to prevent the passage of a bill admitting Utah as a State, notwithstanding the fact that a Democratic caucus of the House has agreed to pass it. Governor West, of Utah, is here working hard to prevent the passage of such a bill, and Delegate Caine, of the same territory, is vigorously working in its favor. Both being Democrats, what they have to say on the subject is carefully listened to by their party associates.

An amendment giving a bounty of one cent per pound on all sugar produced in this country has been added to the Senate tariff bill, but it required a vigorous use of the party whips to bring the Republican Senators into line, and even then Senator Quay voted against it.

General J. C. Black, commissioner of pensions, will, it is thought, be appointed Judge Advocate General of the Army, unless it shall be shown that he is ineligible, which is claimed by some prominent men.

Senator Morgan has given "granny" Blair another tongue lashing Some people would get tired of that kind of treatment, but Senator Blair seems to thrive on it, indeed he almost looks disappointed if he has any thing to say and does not receive some abuse. He often gets it from his own party as well as from Democrats.

The active fight that Mr. Blaine is giving McKinley in his fight for the Speakership is having its effect. His chances are now regarded as best by close observers, but if Blaine should get "turned down" by Harrison it will cause a big tumble in McKinley stock.

There are nearly 250 nominations pending before the Senate, the most of them for postmasters. There is no reason why they should not be confirmed except that the Republicans want to keep the places for Harrison to fill.

Tom Reed, of Maine, is much discomfited at the manner in which Blaine is undermining his strength in the Speakership canvass. Blaine never forgets or forgives an injury, and nothing is too small for him to undertake in order to get even with the people.

On Saturday afternoon last, the President and Mrs. Cleveland received a visit from Vice President and Mrs. Morton. The latter have been in the city for several days. They are stopping at the Normandie, a new hotel in a fashionable quarter, the success of which was assured by Blaine having taken up his winter residence there.

Advices received at the State Department from Samoa indicate that Germany has got into a rumpus with Uncle Sam that will have to be apologized for or else a war may follow. Secretary Bayard is reticent on the subject, preferring to await particulars in regard to reported insult to the American flag by German officers.

Is Cider Intoxicating.

SUPREME COURT QUESTIONS WHETHER ITS SALE SHOULD BE LICENSED.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion delivered by Justice Williams, Jan. 14, reversed the Quarter Sessions of Warren county in the case of the Commonwealth against Reyburg, and sent back for decision by a jury the question: "Is cider included under any of the four kinds of liquor—malt, brewed, vinous or spirituous—for the sale of which a license is necessary?"

The County Court held that the prosecution against Reyburg would not lie because cider was not an intoxicating liquor, but the Supreme Court hold that it is not a question of law for the court to decide, but one of fact, which a jury must pass upon.

In the opinion delivered the Supreme Court says: "In common acceptation cider is not understood to be either a vinous or spirituous beverage, and yet, when fermented, it doubtless contains a percentage of alcohol sufficient to bring it within the fair meaning of the term 'vinous,' and although not the product of distillation, it may, when mixed with spirituous liquor and sold in that condition under the name of cider, be regarded as spirituous within the meaning of the prohibition.

"The evidence on the trial was very weak indeed. No skilled person having knowledge of the composition of cider was called, and there was no direct evidence as to whether the liquor sold as cider was vinous or spirituous. We do not mean to intimate that the mere unfermented juice of the apple is in any circumstances to be regarded as either a vinous or spirituous liquor, but we do not know and cannot say, as a matter of law, that its character may not be so changed by fermentation as to bring it within the meaning of the term 'vinous.' Of course, an admixture with spirits might render the compound 'spirituous.'"

White Caps at Mahanoy City.

The "White Caps" have already begun operations in Schuylkill County. Several of the most prominent citizens have received threatening letters. Dr. N. A. Klock, the only homeopathic physician here, and who is in possession of a large practice, was a few days ago the recipient of a "White Cap" notice. Since that he has been frequently called up nights on professional business to go several miles from town, but refused to attend, thinking the call was merely the ruse of the "White Caps."

A Personally-Conducted Tour to Florida via Pennsylvania Railroad.

Following up the policy so successfully inaugurated last winter, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that a series of tours will be arranged this season for points in Florida and Georgia. The first is fixed for Monday, January 28th. On that date a special train of Pullman drawing-room sleeping-cars, under the superintendence of the Tourist Agent and Chaperon, will leave New York 6:30 P. M., Newark 6:59, Elizabeth 7:08, Trenton 8:05, Philadelphia 9:30, Wilmington 10:04, Baltimore 11:40, Washington 12:50 A. M., and run through via the Atlantic Coast Line to Jacksonville and Thomasville, arriving at the former on the morning and the latter early in the afternoon of the second day. The round-trip tickets, which will admit of a two weeks visit in the South, including Pullman accomodations and meals en route in both directions, will be sold from New York at $48.00, Philadelphia, $46.00, and at rates in proportion from other principal stations on the system. The rates to both Thomasville and Jacksonville are the same, but the tickets are distinct. This trip will undoubtedly prove a most delightful one, as the return limit of the tickets enables the tourist to visit all the important points in this attractive section.

The excursion rate as above from Bloomsburg will be $47.60.

Tourists will take a regular train, connecting with the special at the nearest available station.

E. H. Little Esq. was the owner of a fine pair of ferrets, which he kept shut up in his barn for the purpose of keeping the rats out. On Monday morning one of them escaped, and was caught in Robert Young's chicken yard making a breakfast on a chicken. Mr. Young, supposing it to be a wild animal, killed it, and afterwards learned to whom it belonged.

Dr. T. C. Harter has been traveling in the West, Canada, and New York and has visited all the principal Medical Institutions during his travel and has taken several special courses. The doctor has received some very good recommendations from the West, especially for being so proficient in diagnosing diseases correctly.

Charles C. Wirt died at his home in this town on Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, aged 29 years. Though he had been ill for several months, his death was unexpected. On Saturday he walked out, both morning and afternoon, and seemed in good spirits. At night, soon after retiring, he complained of difficulty in breathing, and he grew weaker and weaker until morning, when his life went out almost imperceptibly. He was a son of the late Wesley Wirt, and a brother of Paul E. Wirt Esq. The funeral services were conducted at the house on Tuesday at 2 o'clock, by Rev. F. P. Manhart.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bertsch gave a very pleasant party at their home on Fourth street last week, Wednesday night. It was an "apron party," the ladies being presented with aprons with small bows of ribbons attached, and gentlemen receiving similar bows The latter ascertains which lady has the corresponding bow, and is then compelled to hem the apron, he who does the best sewing receiving the first prize, and the poorest sewing getting the booby prize. J. G. Wells proved to be the most experienced stitcher, and was presented with a dozen cigars. J. F. Peacock convinced the company by his style of sewing that he was entitled to the booby prize, and got a bib.

Maritana, rendered by the Montague-Turner Gem English Opera Company at the New Opera House last evening, delighted an audience of Rochester's best music lovers. The parts were rendered with precision, finish and power. All are strong singers, as all are of imposing presence; the grace of their action is also most charming. The gifted prima donna Miss Annis Montague, won her audience by her first solo, "The Gypsy Maid," and fairly transported her hearers by that sweetest of melodies, "Tis the Harp in the Air." Mr. Turner's appearance as Don Caesar De Bazan was greeted by hearty applause. His acting is superb, while his grand tenor voice thrills all hearers. There may be greater tenors than Mr. Turner, but no greater has visited Rochester in years. He is equal to every demand, and sings with an abandon and appearance of reserve power that never fail to impress and charm.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, Feb. 10, 1888.

LICENSE COURT.

Court met on Monday, January 21, 1889 at 10 o'clock; President Judge Ikeler and Associate Judge McHenry on the bench. After the transaction of some routine business Judge Ikeler stated that he had received on Saturday remonstrances against the granting of any license, from Berwick, Lightstreet, Bloomsburg, and Millville. As R. S. Howell Esq. represented the opposition to some applications, the papers were handed to him. Col. Freeze objected to the consideration of the papers on the ground that the rules of court require remonstrances to be filed seven days before license court, which has not been done. G. E Ewell objected to them on the ground that the Supreme Court has said that general remonstrances ought not to be considered. R. Buckingham and J. H. Maize also objected to the filing of the papers. After examining the papers, Mr. Howell handed them back to the court, saying that he would present them at the argument, to show popular sentiment.

Owing to the non-arrival of Associate Judge Murphy, the license cases were postponed until 1:30 p. m.

Court convened at 1:30, Judges Ikeler and McHenry on the bench, Judge Murphy being detained by sickness.

S. N. Walker was appointed official stenographer for the courts of the 26th District.

D. R. Coffman was appointed court crier for Columbia county, and compensation fixed at $1 50 for each day's attendance.

Elijah Shutt and M. E. Cox were appointed tipstaves, at $1.50 per day, and they are required to keep the court room, furniture and spittoons clean.

The licenses were then taken up.

On behalf of the exceptions, Mr. Howell argued that the court had no jurisdiction to grant licenses at this time, because the Act of 1875 fixes the first and second terms of court in each year, as the time for granting licenses, and the Act of 1887 does not repeal the Act of 1875. He contended that the provision in the Act of 1887 providing that the court may fix a time by standing rule or order, means only that the court may fix a time within the period fixed by the Act of 1875, to wit, at the first or second term of the year. He also contended that the form of the advertisement in the newspapers were insufficient, in not showing the residence of the applicants with sufficient accuracy. He asked that the court would make an order permitting a copy of the exceptions to be filed in any or all cases. To this objections were made by counsel representing applicants. Mr. Howell asked permission to read remonstrances sent to the court last Saturday. To this objections were made by counsel for applicants, which were overruled, and the remonstrances permitted to be read. Exceptions were taken by all applicants. The petitions were as follows:

"To Judge E. R Ikeler.

We do hereby petition and beg you, for the sake of our community and for the present and rising generation in our midst, to do all in your power to have our laws of order and peace enforced, and that at the convening of the coming term of court you will as far as possible grant no license for the sale of spirituous and malt liquors in our county.

Women's Christian Temperance Union.
Bloomsburg, Pa."

83 signatures.

"To the Hon. E. R. Ikeler, President Judge of Columbia county.

Your petitioners, ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Columbia county, being convinced that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, is productive of evil, and only evil; and Whereas, drunkenness amongst the young men of our county is evidently on the increase, in consequence of the lack of necessary legal restraint, and Whereas, the laws of the United States have for their foundation the Divine law, and that law denounces drunkenness, therefore be it resolved, that we respectfully pray your Honor to grant no licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, in the aforesaid county, in which you have been elected chief vindicator of the law."

(28 names of Berwick ladies are signed to the above.)

"The W. C. T. U. of Lightstreet, in the county of Columbia, to the Honorable Judges of the Court of said county:

Your petitioners are an organization of women engaged in christian and philanthropic work for the suppression of the evils of intemperance. In the name of God and Home we do hereby petition you that you grant no license in Columbia county at the January term of court."

(13 names of ladies of Lightstreet signed to the above.)

"To the Hon. E. R. Ikeler, President Judge of Columbia and Montour counties:

With a solemn realization of the responsibility resting upon us as mothers, wives and sisters, we the members of the W. C. T. U. of Millville, Col. Co. Penn., come before you as humble supplicants asking your favor in helping us to quell the giant whose footprints may be found on almost every threshold. We appeal to you as a neighbor whom we found ever kind and ready to assist us; as a schoolmate whose warm sympathy has ever been with us, and as a friend upon whom we feel we can depend for assistance we so sadly need. It is not necessary for us to picture the evils of intemperance, for, like us, you have seen hearthstones made wretched, fond hopes blasted, intellects buried in oblivion, and the reeling staggering forms of God's image have led us to exclaim "A direful pestilence is in the land!" We do therefore most earnestly entreat and implore you to be more cautious in the granting of licenses to sell intoxicants than has been done heretofore; and use your influence and authority at all times against a business which is so wrong in principle, unchristian in method and disastrous in results. May strength be given you for the carrying out of every good and noble purpose, is our prayer."

(28 names.)

After Mr. Howell had read these petitions, speeches were made by Messrs. Zarr, Buckingham, Maize, Freeze, Elwell, and R. R Little, on behalf of applicants, and Mr. Howell closed the argument for exceptants.

The Court overruled the exceptions to the jurisdiction. Judge Ikeler said:

"In Girich's Application, 2 Pa. C. C. R., 360, the query was suggested whether the provision of the act of 1887, requiring that sureties on the bond should be signers of the petition is still in force. We had heretofore taken pains to ascertain what was the drift of the debate in the legislature on the passage of the Brooks bill, which became the act of thirteenth May, 1887, or the new liquor-law, as it is called, under which the present applicants petition this court for license. We find that section six of the bill contained a provision similar to that just mentioned but that this was thought unnecessary and was not embodied in the law.

Where there is conflict, or repugnancy, between an old and a new act of the legislature, the latter expression of the will of the people by their representatives must prevail, and the old act is therefore so far repealed as it is inconsistent with the new. In the light of this principle of construction, and considering the course of legislation on this subject—the mischief and the remedy—noting that the new act is in a number of particulars different from the old—providing, for example, a different manner of publication, a different amount of bond, a different time for the hearing of applications—a difference that has been thoroughly discussed in the arguments of counsel—we are constrained to regard the old laws abrogated in all points relied upon to sustain the exception to our jurisdiction, and to hold also that the petitions (so far as our attention has been called to them) are sufficient, within the letter of the act of 1887, though whether any applicant shall have granted to him the prayer of his petition will be decided upon the hearing of his application.

As to the papers purporting to be "memorials," which were handed to the court, and which have been read by counsel, we think that no harsh censure should be passed upon the signers, who undoubtedly acted in good faith. The papers may be considered as a single memorial, for they all come from one organization in the county, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, having branches in the several townships and boroughs. The ladies were late in completing the list of signatures, and sent their memorial by mail, as the most direct way of arriving, without risk of delay or of miscarriage, in time for presentation to the court by their counsel, Mr. Howell. We think that these memorialists ought to be heard, and that the public ought to know what they are doing. Just what is to be the effect of their memorial, or whether it shall have any influence in determining the action of the court upon a given application is another thing. The papers are too late to be recognized as remonstrances, regularly filed under the rules of court; we regret this, because they are manifestly the honest expression of the view of the signers and would be entitled to some weight; of course, the request (in some of them) that no license shall be granted to anybody anywhere in Columbia county can hardly be reasonably expected to abolish the act of 1887. We know and respect the people who have made this memorial, and we say in response that we desire to do our whole duty as magistrates, to enforce all the laws as we find them. If any evils arise from our so doing, the remedy is with the legislature, and the people, who are both soon to pass upon the main question involved in all our liquor-laws—the theory, or method, of dealing with the liquor-traffic."

The cases of John McDonald and Andrew Roney Jr., applicants for restaurant licenses in Centralia, were then heard. Roney's house has had a license before.

At 6:15 court adjourned until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

On Tuesday morning at 9 oclock, the court convened, Judges Ikeler and McHenry on the bench.

Mr. Howell read a letter from the President of the W. C. T. U. of Lightstreet, to show his authority for appearing in opposition to license applications, and stated that he would cross-examine all witnesses called in new cases.

The case of A. Cole & Son, new applicants for distillery license in Sugarloaf was taken up. Mr. Buckingham objected to the cross-examination of witnesses by Mr. Howell in cases where no remonstrance has been filed. The court ruled that Mr. Howell had the right to do so. Several witnesses were called to prove the necessity for the place. No witnesses were called in opposition to the license.

Grovanni Bucci, new applicant for restaurant in Sugarloaf, was next called, and a number of witnesses heard. No witnesses called in opposition.

E. P. Albertson, applicant for hotel at Central. Witnesses called on behalf of applicant. None in opposition. Mr. Albertson kept the Ikeler stand at Benton, last year.

U. A Smith, new applicant for wholesaler in Beaver. Witnesses called for applicant, none in opposition.

Alfred Rantz, new applicant for restaurant in Benton. Witnesses called for applicant, none in opposition.

C. B. Ikeler, new applicant for hotel in Benton, (old Ikeler stand). Witnesses heard, no opposition.

John L. Crawford, applicant for old Eckrote stand at Lightstreet. Witnesses heard, no opposition. The above cases were all held under advisement.

John Jameson, applicant for license at Manor Rest Inn, Jamison City. After hearing witnesses the court continued the application until the first day of May court, at which time, upon proof of the completion of the buildings, the license will be granted.

The application of J. S. Mann, for hotel in Centre was then heard. To this a remonstrance had been filed in proper time.

Mr. Wintersteen represented the remonstrance. John Gruver, J. K. Fowler, Clinton Bittenbender, Thomas Brobst were called on behalf of the applicant. Mr. Maize presented an additional petition containing 52 names, stating that they were all voters of the township. The remonstrance contained 38 names, two of whom Mr Maize alleged were non-residents.

On behalf of the remonstrants the following witnesses were called: Hugh Winner, Harvey Edwards, T. B Trowbridge, John Miller, Wallace Bittenbender, Daniel Laycock. In rebuttal, Mr. Mann and his daughter testified.

The substance of the testimony for the applicant was that the house was necessary as a public house, that Mann kept a good house, and was a fit person to keep a hotel; that he was in poor health and unable to do anything else. The testimony of the witnesses against the license, was in substance, that the applicant was not a man of temperate habits, and that he has been convicted in this court within the past year for selling to minors. After remarks by counsel the court refused the license, on the ground that the applicant had not shown himself a fit person to have a license, as some of his own witnesses admitted seeing him intoxicated within the past few days. "The case has been well managed" said the court, "and we cannot but think that his counsel were surprised at the testimony of his witnesses. We think it would be doing great injustice to the law were we to say that this application has been made out, and it is therefore rejected. The preponderance of evidence is strongly against the applicant."

Judge Ikeler then announced that all other applications were granted except Sponenberg's of Berwick, not yet heard, and several new ones in Centralia, which would await Judge Murphy's arrival.

The following business was transacted during the sessions of the license court:

James E Smith appointed guardian of S. B. Kurtz.

Private sale in estate of Martha Hartman deceased, confirmed.

G. A. Herring appointed guardian of Martha A. Jones and Harry Millard.

By the request of the Bar Association of Columbia county the following committees are appointed:

Law Library.—C. G. Barkley, S. F. Zarr, L. E. Waller.

Board of Examiners.—W. H. Rhawn, L. S. Wintersteen, J. H Maize.

Improvement and Repairs of Court House.—J. G Freeze, J. B Robison, R. R. Little, C. E. Geyer, C. C. Evans.

The two last named committees are requested to make report at the first day of February court.

The county statement for 1888 was presented and ordered filed.

On Wednesday morning the case of B. F. Sponenberg of Berwick was taken up, all the judges being on the bench. Judge Murphy was sufficiently recovered to come up on Tuesday evening. A remonstrance was filed in Sponenberg's case, and the following witnesses were called to sustain it: George John, W. Baucher, W. Keiper, Mrs. Vannouten, George Clemens, Howard Kline. B. F. Sponenberg was called in his own behalf. The investigation brought out no evidence to sustain the charges. The court thought that the testimony of the witnesses gave Sponenberg an excellent record as a landlord, and announced that the license was granted. This was received with applause. The remonstrance had six names on it and an additional petition filed at the hearing on behalf of the applicant contained over a hundred.

Orangeville.

The Institute held here Jan 18-19 was in every particular a complete success.

Through the efforts of Supt. Grimes a number of good instructors had been secured, among whom were Hon. Henry Houck, Miss Buckbee, Profs. Waller, Noetling, and Albert, and Mr. D. C. McHenry.

The exercises Friday evening consisted of a recitation by Miss Hidlay, a solo by Miss Achenbach, accompanied by Miss Conner, Miss Fisher, and Mrs. H. C. Conner with violin and guitars. Then the lecturer of the evening, Hon. Henry Houck, was introduced. His subject was "The Old and the New," and for about an hour and a half the audience was highly entertained with a contrast of the old and the new in customs, and in educational methods.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, a good audience had assembled.

The Institute was opened by devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Houtz, and singing by the school. Then Miss Ringler conducted a class exercise in numbers, which was followed by a most excellent address by Mr. H. W. Eves, Millville.

Miss Anna Buckbee, Berwick, gave a talk on Geography. The teacher should see that the imagination, and power of observation are cultivated, and just how this may be done in the study of Geography was shown.

Our Public Schools, was the subject of a paper read by Miss Lillie Megargell. After the intermission, a recitation was given by Miss Geraldine Conner.

Prof. Albert's subject was Numbers. Numbers are made up of facts and unless the child understands this he knows nothing about numbers although he may be able to count.

After singing by the schools, the morning session was closed with an address by Mr. Houck.

Institute met again at 1 30. Owing to the absence of Supt. Grimes Mr. W. Snyder took charge.

The program for the afternoon was very interesting.

A solo by Mrs. T. W. Conner accompanied by Miss Conner with the violin. After a recitation by Miss Edith Pitts, an address was given by Rev. Houtz, followed by Wm. H. Snyder.

Mr. D. C. McHenry of Berwick was next introduced, and every one was interested in his remarks concerning schools and ventilation.

Singing, Trancadillo, by the school, intermission.

Every one expressed themselves pleased with the Fan Drill by the pupils of Miss Megargell's school.

Excellent addresses were delivered by Profs. Waller and Noetling. After singing by Misses Achenbach and Stewart, the exercises closed.

Every speech delivered was just what was needed here, and it is much to be hoped they may leave a lasting impression.

Our thanks are due our worthy Supt. for the trouble he has taken to make this meeting a success, also to others who came to aid us.

Special meetings, change of pastor, improvements or injuries to property, and any thing of public interest about churches of all denominations, is invited. Pastors are specially requested to send in their reports.]

The Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Reformed church of this place next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. With this service the present pastor, the Rev. J. S. Wagner, expects to bring his ministry with this congregation to a close.

The congregation of St. Paul's P. E. Church has had a debt of nearly a thousand dollars for some time past. Within the past month a determined effort has been made to raise this amount. Nearly half the sum was subscribed by the members of the Vestry, and then the subscription book was taken by Mr. J. A. Funston, and by his determined efforts sufficient has been put down or promised to insure the payment of the debt.

The ladies of the congregation were not idle. They gave a supper at Evans' Hall last Friday night at which they cleared over one hundred dollars which goes towards paying the debt. This puts the parish on a solid financial basis and all future efforts can now be devoted to the chapel fund.

India Silks.

Some hundreds of Novelties have first shown their beauty in American sunlight the past week. Is it not a luxury to see them in our perfect light? The pure light of our transept aisle would make an art gallery green with envy.

India Silks from Shanghai. The "Heathen Chinee" may sometimes load a natural Pongee with clay, but White Dress Silks from his hand-looms are without equal for regularity and purity. The Frenchman imitates, and produces a power-loom foulard, partly cotton, and neither in face nor service equals the Chinese.

The French print wonderfully. These Silks come from Shanghai via Lyons, where they tarry long enongh to catch tints from all sources like the skies of the coming Summer, and prepare you for an ovation of color. Don't fool yourself with India Silks made in France. It won't pay.

Not ours to describe these beauties—our duty only to give the news, yours to come and enjoy—perhaps to get the rare chance of first choice. Oriental fabrics with Occidental art.

This is to be an India Silk season. For street and home, both plain and decoration for costumes complete or Garibaldi waists, for every touch of Summer Silk usage they are to be the favorites.

Widths 22 to 27 inches. Prices 75 cents to $1.50.

Edison Cheated.

A TRUSTED EMPLOYEE DOES IT.

There is trouble between Thomas A. Edison, the famous inventor, and his legal adviser, Mr. John C. Tomlinson, the well-known patent lawyer, whose office is the Drexel Building.

Mr. Tomlinson, besides being Mr. Edison's personal legal adviser, has also been counsel for the Edison Electric Light Company. He had the full confidence both of Mr. Edison and of the company and derived a handsome income from the business he transacted for them.

After Mr. Edison had invented the phonograph he engaged E. T. Gilliland then employed by a Western electrical company, at $6000 a year. While perfecting the instrument and making it a commercial success Mr. Edison was so much absorbed that he had no time to devote to capitalizing the inventi n. When he was satisfied that success was certain he intrusted the duty of raising money to promote it to Mr. Gilliland. With Mr. Gilliland Mr. Tomlinson was associated as legal adviser, the agreement being that the former should receive 150 shares of stock in the new company and the latter 300 shares.

It is a fact not generally known that Mr. Edison has made it a practice to make the work on his inventions co-operative. His theory is that by pursuing this course he gets more faithful and persistent work out of his employees, as all are assured of being gainers upon its successful completion. Thus part of the money received for the phonograph was divided pro rata among the sixteen artisans who assisted in its perfection.

After a great deal of negotiation Mr. Tomlinson and Mr. Gilliland finally interested Mr. Lippincott, a Pittsburg capitalist, in the patent, and at length reported to Mr. Edison that that gentleman stood ready to give $500,000 in cash for it. Mr. Edison asked them whether they could not get more, and also inquired what arrangements they had made in their own behalf. "Oh" said Mr Tomlinson, "we are to have some stock in the new company."

Mr. Edison decided after some deliberation to accept Mr. Lippincott's proposition and the papers were drawn up and the money paid. But to his astonishment he learned soon after the transaction had been completed that the price fixed and paid by Mr. Lippincott was $750,000 and not $500 000 as had been reported to him, and then he dropped his laboratory work for awhile and set himself to find out what had become of the extra $250,000.

His investigation developed the fact that Mr. Tomlinson had received $62,000 of the money—rather a large fee, by the way, for the drawing up of sale—and that the balance had gone into the pocket of Gilliland. He was naturally indignant, as much perhaps on account of the workmen who had been suckred out of their proportion of the profits of the venture as his own, and at once brought the matter to the attention of the Law Committee of the Edison Electric Light Company of which Tomlison was counsel.

He presented to this body a number of affidavits setting forth these and other facts, and they recommended the dismissal of Mr. Tomlinson. The Board of Directors adopted the recommendation and Mr. Tomlinson was dismissed.

Monopolists Dine.

The American protective tariff league held its first annual dinner at Delmonico's restaurant in New York Thursday of last week. Several speeches were made and among them was one by President Ammidown of the league, who showed in bright colors the eternal future of protection.

Ammidown, who owns several woolen mills in New Jersey, is known to have imported Hungarian workingmen take the place of American laborers, and in view of this fact any remarks he makes regarding the benefits of protection are naturally looked upon as the embodiment of hypocrisy. The employes of Ammidown and other protected monopolists never hold annual dinners and Belshazzar feasts, and are even compelled to struggle for the necessaries of life, yet it will be noticed that it is they who are "protected" by a high tariff according to the theory of monopolists. The American protective league has reason to rejoice, however, for there are no indications that the republican legislators at Washington will interfere with the system which enables them and other protected manufacturers to "protect their American workingmen from foreign competition."—Patriot.

Cleveland and Ingalls.

President CLEVELAND simply respected the dignity of his high office by refusing to invite President pro tem. INGALLS of the Senate to the first State dinner of the season. Under all ordinary circumstances, the President of the Senate would be a prominent guest on such an occasion, but social as well as other laws imply that one who disgraces distinction shall be excluded where honors are recognized.

President INGALLS was not even content with bitter partisan assaults upon President CLEVELAND. Had he been ever so aggressive in political denunciation of the policy or public acts of the first officer of the government, he should and would have been the guest of honor at the President's State dinner; but INGALLS' public criticism of CLEVELAND in speech, in magazine essay and in authorized and revised interview for public journals, was simply brutal in conception and beastly in expression. He thus put himself beyond the pale of Presidental recognition as a gentleman, and had CLEVELAND done otherwise he would have abased himself and dishonored his office.

No man since the days of WASHINGTON, has been cleaner in his great office, alike in public and private acts, than President CLEVELAND, and no man has been more shamefully traduced. He is one who invites heroic opposition and searching criticism in politics, and when the maw-worm of beastly assaults upon private life comes to the front, it is confession that honesty and truth are important in assailing such a man. INGALLS has degraded himself and his high trust to the weapons of the fish-monger, and CLEVELAND has honored the dignity of his high trust by declining to have the indecent guest at the Presidential table.—Ex.

Wit and Humor.

Familiarity has never bred much contempt for the business end of a wasp.

High life below stairs in England is nothing to the low life above stairs in some other country.

It is a powerful hard thing for a woman to wear six-button kids when her husband wears a seven-button pocketbook.

"Sir," said the Surgeon General, "there's cholera in the port." "Well, sir," roared the Viceroy, "serve sherry, then."

The latest theory from a scientist is that a man has two brains. This, however, cannot possibly refer to the cigarette dudes.

Mrs. Westend (at a party)—"How brilliant Mrs. Tiptop is tonight." Mr. Tiptop (dryly)—"Y-e-s, she's an awfully jolly woman when away from home."

Whatever may be the scarcity of fractional currency, we have never heard yet that the circulation of the contribution-box was interfered with through lack of pennies.

The phonograph shows that a man's voice has not the same sound to him self that it has to others, thus finally explaining why some people persist in singing.

Wealthy but economical father—"Do you know, my son, what strict economy would do for you?" Robert—"I know what it has done for me, father, and I respect you for it.

An eminent theologian, who ought to know if anybody does, says the angels never laugh. Then the angels never saw a woman trying to saw a stick of cordwood, that's all.

In Europe it is customary to leave visiting cards on the graves of poets. This seems strange, when it is known that the occupants of the graves are always at home.

She—I don't think I can give you an answer all at once, Arthur. He—O, never mind, Lil; don't hurry. I can wait a year—two—three, even—(matters hastily arranged in less than no time).

Eudekin (who has just put on a new suit of clothes in the shop)—Wait a minute, I'll go over to the bank and get a check cashed. Tailor (going out with him)—Well, I'll follow suit.

Citizen (to elderly physician)—"You don't bleed patients as often as you did fifteen or twenty years ago!" Physician (looking over package of unpaid bills)—"No, we don't bleed 'em at all; they bleed us."

When asked why women never have showing on their throats what is called Adam's apple, a sour-apple old bachelor said: "O, the first woman swallowed her apple; Adam's stuck in his throat!"

Said Brown—"The day I was married I quit chewing tobacco, and I tell you it was pretty hard on me that day, but in twenty-four hours I was all right." "Ah, how's that!" "Well, the next day I commenced chewing again."

Bride of a month—We must not forget the Goodharts, Alfred. If it had not been for their house party this time last year we should never have met and married. Bridegroom of dito—Nonsense, my dear! they didn't mean any harm.

He—How did you like the play, Carrie? She—It was just lovely. I don't know when I have passed so delightful an evening. "Did you ever see such fine scenery?" "Yes—no—the fact is I didn't notice. I couldn't keep my eyes off that lovely bonnet that lady in the second row wore. You saw it of course." No I was interested in the play." "Do you know, I don't think men are observant."

New tenant (in a towering rage)—"See here, sir, before renting that house for a year I asked you if any of the neighbors were musicians and you said they were not. Sir, that's the noisiest neighborhood I ever got into. Every house on the street has a piano or cabinet organ, to say nothing of fiddles, flutes, cornets and banjos." Real estate agent (calmly)—My dear sir, none of your neighbors are musicians. They only think they are."

OH! MY HEAD!!

Suffering of a New Jersey Senator.—Dyspepsia, Sick Headache.—Terrible Things.

When the stomach is torpid it soon becomes clogged with half digested matters, the blood becomes vitiated and foul; the other organs fail to act normally, and induces a train of symptoms, such as dyspepsia, sick headache, dizziness, drowsiness, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back, loss of appetite.

"There are few things that I believe in with all my heart and it affords me pleasure to tell of one of them." The speaker was ex-Senator Albert Merritt, head of the large fruit firm, 39 Park Place, N. Y., and the scene his office. "I was sick and feared I had become fated to endure the and a dangerous affection of the kidneys. A relative said to me, 'Why don't you try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, instead, Rondout, N. Y.' I did so. I grew steadily better. I could eat, digest, sleep and work with a clearer head, and the yellow color of my skin had given place to the tones that announce pure blood and every organ of the body in healthy action. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is entitled to the credit of saving my life. If any one has a doubt about the truth of my statements let him write to me. I can give you the names and addresses of fifty persons who will tell you that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has been to them a help and a blessing in time of need."—Mr. T. Tolhevers, Kerrytown, N. Y.

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a long step I was troubled with terrors Blocks of darkness and due to impure blood and a disordered state of the stomach. I was advised to try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y. I did so and have been completely cured. It's the best thing I ever heard of for any disorder of that nature, and I have recommended it to many with like success." Mr. Daniel Pitts, Kingston, N. Y. I recommend Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy for dyspepsia and sick headache. I suffered for many years with these complaints, and was cured by Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY.

Price One dollar. Prepared at Rondout, N. Y.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Disease, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained a great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. For a its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

Send ten cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's book on Consumption. Address, Dumping Grain.

One of the largest millers in the United States, C. A. Pillsbury, is credited with asserting that American millers do not dampen their wheat before grinding it. This is correct of some millers, but not of all, and the reason is not attributable to differences in millers, but to differences in wheat. Most of the California wheat ground in this state is moistened, because it is found necessary to do so. On the other hand, Oregon wheat will not stand dampening, as it contains enough water without this treatment.

On this account local millers prefer California wheat, as they can add the necessary water for nothing, which they have to pay for in the Oregon article. When shipped abroad or stored for months at tidewater, there is less difference, as wheat which is not moist will become so when in a damp atmosphere. California wheat when afloat gains 2 to 3 per cent. from absorption of moisture. A certain percentage of water in wheat is essential to render it fit for grinding, and the moisture has to be either found in the grain or applied artificially thereto. —San Francisco Grocer.

Pope Leo's Abstemious Life.

Like Napoleon, Leo XIII does a great deal of work and takes very little sleep. He rises at 5 in summer and 6 in winter. His toilet occupies a half hour, after which he passes an hour in prayer and meditation as a preparation for mass, which he says every day in one of the private chapels of the Vatican. He officiates at the altar with exemplary devotion, and there is an exceeding grace in all his movements, whether in the sanctuary, in his garden, in his library or when holding a public audience. At 8 o'clock the pope takes his cafe au lait and a roll. Leo XIII is one of the most abstemious of men, and the entire expenses of his table do not average more than $1 a day the whole year round. It must be remembered that the pope always takes his meals alone.—Pittsburg Post.

Electric Prostration.

Several cases of this new malady are reported from Creusot, France. It affects workers under electric light. The light exceeds 100,000 candle power, and it appears that it is this excess of light, and not the heat, which produces the nervous symptoms. A painful sensation in the throat, face and temples is first noticed, then the skin becomes coppery red, and irritation is felt about the eyes, much lachrymation ensues, and these symptoms then disappear, while the skin peels off in five days. The effects are comparable to those produced by walking over fresh snow in the sunlight, and may be regarded as a sort of "sun burning."—Lancet.

A freight train on the Southern Pacific railroad ran into a herd of cattle, striking a yearling calf, which jumped at one bound on the pilot of the locomotive. It lay down quietly and rode for nine miles. As the train approached Tucson the signal whistle aroused it, and it jumped from the pilot and scampered across the range.

The Mud Supply.

The question agitated years ago, "What becomes of all the pins?" might be supplemented by the query, "Where does Pittsburg's mud come from?" From some unknown and mysterious source there comes to the streets of the Iron City tons upon tons of mud. It is carted away, washed away, scraped away, only to reappear and to grow in bulk as rapidly as did Jonah's gourd. Known causes for this increment are not sufficient to explain the presence of these muddy avalanches. The debris of new buildings, the droppings from wagons, the washings from higher portions of the city; these do not wholly account for the perennially gathering deposits. It must be that Pittsburg mud, like Topsy, "jes' growed."—Pittsburg Bulletin.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 2, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:
Gentlemen—I can cheerfully and truthfully say that S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier on earth. In 1884 I contracted blood poison. Physicians treated me with no good results. I took a half dozen different kinds of blood medicines, but, without receiving any permanent relief! I was induced to try S. S. S. I began the first bottle with the gravest doubts of success. I had been so often deceived. But improvement came, and I continued its use until perfectly well. I have since married, and have a healthy family. No trace of the disease is seen. Swift's Specific did all this for me, and I am grateful. Yours truly, J. S. STRADER.

HOMES OF TO-DAY
Or Modern Examples of Moderate Cost Houses.

Subscription $1 per annum. Published in regular quarterly parts, on the first of January, April, July and October, each part being complete in itself. It presents designs of dwellings of every description, more particularly adapted to those of moderate means. Every number contains floor plans and perspective elevations of several new designs, with approximate estimates of cost, full specifications, details of construction, and sometimes sketches of interiors. Each design is illustrated by a number of engravings, and the whole is accompanied by descriptive letter-press, which renders the plans perfectly intelligible to those of ordinary mechanical knowledge. Many of the designs are original with the publishers, and have been prepared at considerable expense. Others have been selected from the best sources at home and abroad. Every number contains a variety of new and valuable information in regard to the best and most economical methods of building, and the whole work is of such a character that any one intending to build at any time will find it to his interest to obtain the numbers in advance of his operations, as they will be found to contain much information that cannot be obtained elsewhere at any price, and which will save them many times the cost of the publication in the aggregate.

The above are miniature specimens of its illustrations showing a cottage to cost $2500.

FOR 25c. I will send a specimen copy, or a copy of the number containing "A Cozy Home," the most instructive little book ever issued on house-planning and building.

FOR $1 I will send the four parts already issued for 1888, and "A Cozy Home."

FOR $1.50 I will send the four parts for 1888 already issued and "A Cozy Home," and the four parts to be issued in 1889.
